This document relates to:

Ashton et al. v. al Qaeda Islamic Army, et al., 02-cv-6977 (GBD)(SN)

The Ashton 23 Wrongful Death Plaintiff's Motion for Final Judgment

For the reasons set forth below, and the statements contained in the declaration of James P. Kreindler, Esq. (“Kreindler Declaration”) and exhibits thereto, the Ashton Plaintiff set forth in Exhibit A to the Kreindler Declaration (“Ashton 23”), by and through her counsel, Kreindler & Kreindler LLP, respectfully moves this Court for an Order:

- 1) Awarding the plaintiff set forth on Exhibit A to the Kreindler Declaration (the Ashton 23 Plaintiff) solatium damages for the losses she suffered as a result of the death of her immediate family member in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks in the amount previously awarded by this Court;
- 2) Awarding the Ashton 23 Plaintiff pre-judgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually for the period from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment for damages;
- 3) Granting the Ashton 23 Plaintiff permission to seek punitive damages and any other appropriate damages at a later date;
- 4) Finding that service of process was properly effected upon the Islamic Republic of Iran in accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1608(a) for sovereign defendants; and,

5) Granting permission for all other Ashton Plaintiffs in this action to submit applications for damages awards in later stages, to the extent such awards have not previously been addressed.

This motion is made on behalf of the Ashton 23 Plaintiff listed in Exhibit A to the Kreindler Declaration, in light of this Court’s previous order granting permission to allow remaining plaintiffs in the case to move for this relief. See 03-md-1570 (S.D.N.Y.) (GBD) (SN), Doc. No. 3300, Filed 06/16/2016.¹

As the award set forth in the proposed order represent the only direct recovery against Iran on behalf of the Ashton 23 Plaintiff listed in Exhibit A, any award issued to that individual will constitute a final award and judgment against the Islamic Republic of Iran (“Iran”) for that plaintiff listed in Exhibit A to the Kreindler Declaration.

I. Procedural Background

On September 4, 2002, the Ashton Plaintiffs filed their first complaint against the sponsors of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, which included allegations against Iran. See 02-cv-6977 (S.D.N.Y.) ECF No. 1. Plaintiffs asserted federal jurisdiction pursuant to, among other things, the Alien Tort Statute (28 U.S.C. § 1330) (“ATS”), the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act (28 U.S.C. § 1605(a)) (“FSIA”) and the Torture Victim Protection Act (28 U.S.C. § 1330 note) (“TVPA”). Id. at 28, 39 – 40, 43, 48. Iran was listed as a named defendant in the Ashton plaintiffs’ Consolidated Amended Complaint, filed on March 6, 2003, with the same jurisdictional assertions. See 02-cv-6977 (S.D.N.Y.) ECF No. 11-2 at 17, ECF No. 11-5 at 45 - 49. This Consolidated Amended Complaint (the “CAC”) was served in compliance with FSIA requirements through diplomatic channels, but Iran has never answered. See 02-cv-6977 (S.D.N.Y.), ECF No. 424 at 2; see also 02-cv-6977 (S.D.N.Y.) ECF No. 358. The Ashton Plaintiffs moved for a Certificate of Default, which the Clerk of the Court issued. See 02-cv-6977 (S.D.N.Y.), ECF No. 651.

At the time that the CAC was first filed against Iran, the FSIA functioned as a pass-through statute, denying immunity for claims arising from certain acts of terrorism or material support for terrorism if the United States had designated the foreign sovereign a state sponsor of terrorism, thus allowing a plaintiff to pursue a claim in the federal courts in suits against a nation-state that had been officially designated a state-sponsor of terrorism, such as Iran. See Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-132, § 221(a), 110 Stat. 1214, 1241. The substantive causes of action detailed in the CAC were for common-law wrongful death based on intentional murder, survival damages and injuries and assault and battery; violation of the Anti-Terrorism Act (18 U.S.C. § 2333); violation of the TVPA; and violation of the FSIA. See 02-cv-6977 (S.D.N.Y.) ECF No. 11-5 at 245 – 50.

Based on evidence and arguments submitted by various plaintiffs in this consolidated multi-district litigation arising out of the September 11, 2001 terror attacks, the Ashton Plaintiffs moved for a judgment of liability against Iran for claims arising out of the deaths of the plaintiffs' decedents. ECF No. 3008. In their motion for a liability default judgment, the Ashton Plaintiffs relied on the Certificate of Default entered in the Ashton case, which was premised on the CAC that Iran had never answered. ECF No. 2970 at 2. They then moved for a default judgment of liability against Iran only as to those causes of action established under the FSIA. ECF No. 2970 at 2, 10 – 18. This Court granted that motion for a default judgment of liability. ECF No. 3014.²

Thereafter, the Ashton Plaintiffs moved for partial summary judgment for the conscious pain and suffering that victims murdered on September 11, 2001 suffered before death, which this Court granted, and certain Ashton Plaintiffs moved for default judgments on economic damages suffered as a result of their decedents' wrongful deaths as well. This Court granted those motions. See ECF No. 3229 (adopting December 28, 2015 Report and Recommendation awarding damages for conscious pain and suffering) and No. 3356 (awarding damages for economic loss). In addition, certain Ashton Plaintiffs moved for solatium damages suffered by immediate family members and those non-immediate family members who were the “functional equivalent” of immediate family members eligible to recover under the terrorism exception to the FSIA as well as for the economic loss suffered on behalf of the estates of some of those killed on September 11, 2001. See, e.g., ECF Nos. 3295 (Motion for Final Judgment for Ashton I claimants including claims for solatium damages); 4058 (Motion for Final Judgment for Ashton V claimants, the “functional equivalent” of immediate family members, solely for solatium damages); 5535 (Motion for Final Judgment for Ashton XVII and Betu VI claimants seeking economic damages and final judgments for estates). This Court granted these motions finding that an award to the immediate family members of each decedent was proper and that prejudgment interest on the solatium loss amounts was warranted. See ECF Nos. 3300; 3387; 3706; 3979; 4106; 4127; 4152; 4173 (granting in part and denying in part motion for “functional equivalent” of immediate family members); 4170; 4497; 4880; 5101; 5137; and 5387 (granting in part and denying in part motion for “functional equivalent” of immediate family members).

For the reasons below as well as those set forth in the prior motions for summary judgment on liability and prior motions for judgment for solatium damages made on behalf of other Ashton wrongful death plaintiffs, the Ashton 23 Plaintiff listed in Exhibit A to the Kreindler Declaration now moves this Court to grant the proposed Order filed herewith awarding her the same amount of compensatory damages for her solatium losses as awarded to other plaintiffs, directing that pre-judgment interest be assessed at 4.96 percent per annum, which is the rate that this Court previously approved in connection with the prior Ashton Plaintiffs’ motions for damages judgments, and finding that service of process was properly effected on Iran pursuant to the FSIA (28 U.S.C. § 1608(a)). The Ashton Plaintiffs also ask for permission to continue to submit applications in subsequent stages on behalf of those claimants not included in the attached exhibits, should any other applications be warranted.

II. Damages

Under 28 U.S.C. § 1605A (“Section 1605A”), which, among other claims, applies to the suit against Iran, available damages include “economic damages, solatium, pain and suffering, and punitive damages.” 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(a)(1) and (c)(4). That is, the “estates of those who [died] can recover economic losses stemming from wrongful death of the decedent; family members can recover solatium for their emotional injury; and all plaintiffs can recover punitive damages.” Valore v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 700 F.Supp.2d 52, 83 (D.D.C. 2010). While a claim under Section 1605A is available only to a “claimant or … victim [who] was … a national

of the United States; a member of the armed forces; or otherwise an employee of the Government of the United States, or of an individual performing a contract awarded by the United States Government, acting within the scope of the employee's employment," under the Alien Tort Statute, district courts have jurisdiction over claims brought by non-United States nationals who do not fit the Section 1605A categories. See 28 U.S.C. § 1330.

The Ashton 23 Plaintiff listed on Exhibit A of the Kreindler Declaration is the immediate family member of an individual killed in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks and either she or the victim was a United States national as of September 11, 2001 and she therefore is entitled to compensation under 28 U.S.C. § 1605A for the solatium losses suffered as a result of the wrongful death of each of her decedents.

A. Solatium Damages

The Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act (28 U.S.C. § 1605A) specifically provides for solatium damages. Under that provision, family members of the decedents may recover for "the mental anguish, bereavement, and grief that those with a close relationship to the decedent experience as a result of the decedent's death, as well as the harm caused by the loss of decedent's society and comfort." Dammarell v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 281 F. Supp. 2d 105, 196 (D.D.C. 2003), vacated on other grounds, 404 F. Supp. 2d 261 (D.D.C. 2005). Other courts have previously noted that "[a]cts of terrorism are by their very definition extreme and outrageous and intended to cause the highest degree of emotional distress." Belkin v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 667 F. Supp. 2d 8, 22 (D.D.C. 2009). Given that, in FSIA cases solatium claims have been treated as comparable to claims for intentional infliction of emotional distress, in which the immediate family members of the decedent are treated as direct victims. See, e.g. Salazar v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 370 F. Supp. 2d 105, 115 n.12 (D.D.C. 2005)("[c]ourts have uniformly held that a terrorist attack—by its nature—is directed not only at the victims but also at the victims’ families.”); Surette v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 231 F. Supp. 2d 260, 267 n.5 (D.D.C. 2002) (treating solatium claim as “‘indistinguishable’ from the claim of intentional infliction of emotional distress.”) (quoting Wagner v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 172 F. Supp. 2d 128, 135 n.11 (D.D.C. 2001)). Thus, this Court has previously awarded solatium damages to “immediate family members” who, though not physically present at the site of the terrorist attacks, were nevertheless intended victims of the terrorist activities. See In re Terrorist Attacks on Sept. 11, 2001, No. 03-MDL-1570 (GBD)(SN) (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 12, 2016) (ECF No. 3358); In re Terrorist Attacks on Sept. 11, 2001, No. 03-MDL-1570 (GBD)(SN), 2015 WL 9468813 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 28, 2015) (“Ashton Report”); In re Terrorist Attacks on Sept. 11, 2001, No. 03-MDL-1570 (GBD)(SN), 2012 WL 4711407 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 3, 2012).

In defining those family members eligible to make a claim for solatium damages, this Court previously determined that spouses, parents, children and siblings who survived a victim killed in the September 11 terrorist attacks were entitled to recover for their losses, and set forth a framework for other family relationships that fell outside of those four categories, such as intimate partners, aunts and uncles and step-relationships. See 03-md01570 (S.D.N.Y.) (GBD)(SN), Doc. No. 3363, Entered 10/14/2016. The four established categories of family relationships – spouses, parents, children and siblings – do not require any additional showing of the nature of the underlying relationship.

To fashion a solatium award adequately compensating the surviving family members in the litigation against Iran, this Court previously looked to the analysis undertaken by District Court Judge Royce Lambert in the case of Estate of Heiser v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 466 F. Supp. 2d 229 (D.D.C. 2006). There, Judge Lamberth concluded that solatium damages should be awarded to each spouse of a deceased victim in the amount of $8 million, to each parent in the amount of $5 million, and to each sibling in the amount of $2.5 million. *Id.*³

Magistrate Judge Frank Maas previously recognized that the immediate family members of those killed in the September 11 terrorist attacks suffered and continue to suffer “profound agony and grief and, “[w]orse yet, … are faced with frequent reminders of the events of that day.” See 03-md-1570 (02-cv-6977) (S.D.N.Y.) (GBD) (SN), Doc. No. 2618, Entered 07/30/12, pp. 10 – 12. Given the “extraordinarily tragic circumstances surrounding the September 11th attacks, and their indelible impact on the lives of the victims’ families,” Magistrate Judge Maas in his Report and Recommendation concluded that an upward departure from the Heiser framework was appropriate and recommended solatium damages in the following amounts:

Relationship to Decedent	Solatium Award
Spouse	$12,500,000
Parent	$8,500,000
Child	$8,500,000
Sibling	$4,250,000

Subsequently, Magistrate Judge Maas and then Magistrate Judge Sarah Netburn issued orders awarding solatium damages in the amounts set forth above to various groups of plaintiffs.

The losses claimed in this motion are legally and factually comparable to those suffered by the prior Ashton claimants, and the other claimants involved in this litigation. The death in this case was sudden and unexpected and was the result of the terrorism defendants’ extreme acts of malice. The decedent was a civilian whose death was intended to create an environment of fear and terror. The claimant here was not an attenuated victim but the immediate family member of the decedent and was directly and irrevocably harmed by the terrorist acts and consequences. Many family members of those killed in the September 11, 2001 attacks can visit no private cemetery plot or gravestone to remember their loved ones but are instead resigned to never have the closure that might otherwise be expected after the death of an immediate family member. The amount of solatium damages previously adopted by the District Court in the other Ashton cases as well as the other claimants involved in this litigation should apply equally to the Ashton 23 Plaintiff.

The relationship between the decedent and the Ashton 23 Plaintiff is set forth in Exhibit A accompanying the Kreindler Declaration. As described in the Kreindler Declaration, the Ashton 23 Plaintiff has a direct relationship previously recognized as being presumptively qualified for solatium damages; the relationship between the Ashton 23 Plaintiff and her immediate family member, who was killed in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, has been verified; the Ashton 23 Plaintiff survived the death of her immediate family member on September 11, 2001; and the Ashton 23 Plaintiff does not have another known claim pending before this Court for compensation against Iran. The Ashton Plaintiffs therefore respectfully request that this Court issue a final judgment ordering payment of solatium damages to the Ashton 23 Plaintiff, listed in Exhibit A, in the amount set forth above, based on her relationship with her decedent and as described in the Kreindler Declaration and set forth in Exhibit A.

B. Punitive Damages

Plaintiff is also entitled to punitive damages. See 28 U.S.C. § 1605A(c)(4). Previously in this case, the magistrate judge explained that a “3.44 ratio ‘has been established as the standard ratio applicable to cases arising out of’ terrorist attacks.” ECF No. 2618 at 13 (quoting Estate of Bland v. Islamic Republic of Iran, 831 F. Supp. 2d 150, 158 (D.D.C. 2011)). This Court adopted that recommendation and awarded punitive damages on each compensatory damages category at a ratio of 3.44 (punitive) to 1 (compensatory). ECF No. 2623 at 2. The Court has applied that ratio to awards for plaintiffs in other related cases. See, e.g., ECF No. 3175 at 3 (Magistrate Judge Maas Report and Recommendation to apply a 3.44 punitive multiplier); ECF No. 3229 at 1 (Judge Daniels adopting in its entirety Judge Maas's Report and Recommendation to apply a 3.44 multiplier); ECF No. 3300 at 1 and Exhibit A (Judge Daniels applying 3.44 punitive multiplier to claims in Ashton).

However, in another case in the In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001 multidistrict litigation, a different magistrate judge recommended that the plaintiffs' request for punitive damages be denied without prejudice. ECF No. 3363 at 28. Judge Daniels adopted that recommendation, denying without prejudice the plaintiffs' request for punitive damages. ECF No. 3384 at 6.

In light of the Court's decision in related litigation to defer determination of punitive damage issues until a later stage of the litigation, the Ashton Plaintiffs request permission to address the issue of punitive damages at a later date. See, e.g., ECF No. 3666 (Judge Daniels' order authorizing plaintiffs to make an application for punitive damages at a later date consistent with any future rulings of the Court).

C. Prejudgment Interest

On the issue of prejudgment interest, a December 28, 2015 Report and Recommendation, adopted by this Court, concluded that to the extent the Ashton wrongful death plaintiffs' claims arose out of injuries in New York State, the rate of prejudgment interest was 9 percent per annum from September 11, 2001 until the date judgment was entered, and to the extent the injuries arose elsewhere, 4.96 percent interest per annum compounded annually was appropriate. See ECF No. 3175 at 1 – 2. Subsequently, however, this Court concluded that the rate of prejudgment interest of 4.96 percent was more appropriate. ECF No. 3384 at 6. See 03-md-1570 (11-cv-7550).

Accordingly, the Ashton 23 Plaintiff asks that this Court order prejudgment interest of 4.96 percent per annum to run on her award from September 11, 2001 until the date of judgment, as was done previously in the other Ashton cases, as well as for other plaintiffs in this consolidated litigation.

III. Conclusion

For all of the reasons herein, as well as those set forth in the previous submissions of the Ashton plaintiffs and other plaintiffs, the Ashton 23 Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court grant the proposed order filed herewith and

- 1) Award her solatium damages in the amounts set forth on Exhibit A to the Kreindler Declaration;
- 2) Award her pre-judgment interest at the rate of 4.96 percent per annum, compounded annually for the period from September 11, 2001 until the date of the judgment for damages;
- 3) Grant her permission to seek punitive damages, economic damages (if not sought herein), and other appropriate damages at a later date;
- 4) Find that service of process was properly effected upon Iran in accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1608(a) for sovereign defendants; and,
- 5) Grant permission for all other plaintiffs in this action not appearing on Exhibit A to submit applications for damages awards in later stages, to the extent such awards have not previously been addressed.
